

*Estes Park Convention & Visitors Bureau
Suzy Blackhurst, Communications Coordinator
Voice: 970.577.9900, ext 224
Email: sblackhurst@estes.org*

March 18, 2005

No Foolin' Wedding, Love Extravaganza set for Estes Park on April 2

"I love you, honey. I'm not joking!" And neither is Estes Park, known as a unique and beautiful location for weddings of all varieties. That's why April 2 has been set aside for a Fools in Love Extravaganza in this mountain village just about an hour northwest of the Denver area.

Whether you're a "fool in love" or a "fool for love" you're invited to Estes Park for an official wedding ceremony, a chance to renew your vows, or just join all those other fools who think they're in love or are looking for that state of mind .

The evening begins with a 5:30 p.m. buffet dinner at The View restaurant at the Historic Craggs Lodge, 300 Riverside Drive. An official marriage ceremony, performed by an ordained, non-denominational minister, will be conducted at 6:30 p.m. for those wanting to officially say "I Do." Participants in the official service need to bring their own marriage license which can be obtained in advance from any Colorado County Clerk.

For those who want to say "I'd Do It All Again", a renewal of vows ceremony also will be held.

Music, dancing and games will commence following the ceremonies at 7:30 p.m. Prizes will be given away throughout the evening including a Grand Prize Getaway, which includes a two-night romantic bed/breakfast/spa package at the Stanley Hotel, plus dining, limousine service and more.

Costs for the evening vary with the choice of activity. The buffet dinner is $20 per person. Charge for each couple participating in the marriage or vow renewal ceremony is $25 and admission to the celebratory dance is $5 for singles and $9.99 per couple.

Those interested in more information about the Fools in Love Extravaganza should call 970-586-6606, ext. 506.

— END —