FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE – August 26, 2004

Teri Weldin named CVB Visitor Center Coordinator

Estes Park resident Teri Weldin began duties today as Visitors Center Coordinator for the Estes Park Convention and Visitors Bureau (CVB) according to CVB Executive Director Tom Pickering, who also serves as Director of Business Development for the Town of Estes Park.

“We’re especially pleased to have someone with her experience and talent working with us,” Pickering said. Weldin comes to the CVB with more than 15 years experience in nonprofit and government agency organization and administration. Weldin reports to Communications Director Peter Marsh.

In her position, Weldin will supervise daily operations of the Visitors Center, including training and supervision of staff and volunteers. In addition she is responsible for maintaining resource and referral information and working with CVB stakeholders.

While Weldin has lived full time in Estes Park for about two years, she brings to the position experience as a human resources manager for the Family Health Council of Central Pennsylvania, and as a fiscal manager and special projects coordinator for the Pennsylvania Partnerships for Children. In the early 1990s she worked in the Pennsylvania Governor’s Policy Office assigned to a Head Start collaboration project and the Governor’s advisor on child care policy.

After living in Pennsylvania for 18 years, Weldin returned to Estes Park where her entire immediate family has lived for the past 25 years. “I am thrilled to finally be back home again and look forward to working closely with the community,” she said.
